

NEUBACHER SHOR CONTEMPORARY

Located off an unassuming Parkdale alley, this warehouse turned contemporary art gallery has clean, modern white walls, but retains the character of the original building: rough brickwork, buffed concrete floors and a 16-foot wood-beamed ceiling. Movable partitions make the 3,000-square-foot space malleable to individual visions; the room holds 250 standing and 150 seated. The gallery is curated by owners and art experts Manny Neubacher and Anya Shor; guests can leave up the current art show or create their own projections and installations (though that option comes with a fee). The space is $2,000 Sunday to Wednesday, $2,500 Thursday through Saturday. The preferred caterer is Eatertainment, but outside catering is also permitted. Couples also have the cost-saving option of providing their own alcohol. 5 Brock St. (at Queen St. W.), 647-933-0193.

THE OLD MILL INN AND SPA

Nestled on the edge of the Humber River, this Tudor-style mansion is the epitome of old-fashioned Anglo tradition. The timbered walls and wood-beamed ceilings evoke historic England, while flower gardens and waterfalls provide a photogenic backdrop. Almost 600 couples get hitched every year in the Old Mill's 120-seat private chapel, a brick and stained glass building based on a 16th-light-filled grand ballroom that can accommodate up to 350 people for a sit-down dinner with wine and cocktails, with a full dance floor and live music. The outdoor lake-facing patio provides a perfect setting for summer vows. All catered menus feature executive chef Steffan Hoyer's seasonal ingredients. Menus range from $100 per person to $150 per person. 1601 Lakeshore Blvd. E. (at Bayview Dr.), 416-533-3553.

PARK HYATT TORONTO

The 18th-floor Roof Suite offers a panoramic view of the downtown skyline in a sophisticated setting. Wedding packages include personalized printed menus, a complimentary toast for the bride and groom, a gift for the bride and groom, a gift for all guests and a deluxe wedding cake. The hotel's d'oeuvre and dinner service is available in the makes its boardroom. Queen's Park Ballroom (dinner and dancing) is a kosher kitchen. Wedding packages from $1,000. 100 Bloor St. W., 416-591-1234.

THE RECTORY CAFÉ

It takes some careful planning to pull off a wedding at the picturesque Rectory Café, but the results are worth the effort. The 100-seat dining room is a charming space with a
